

Quail Creek Newsletter

May 2010

CONGRATULATIONS TO ALL OF THOSE GRADUATING: We don't know the plans you all have, but we know that a big world awaits you and you will go far and wide. Take with you the best wishes of your Quail Creek neighbors for success and happiness in all your endeavors.

HOSPITALITY: The Hospitality Committee is continuing with the June Tuesday morning gatherings at the pavilion from 10:00 to 11:00 a.m. If you like yummy food and visiting with your neighbors, come on down! Everyone is welcome. They have also selected Tuesday, July 13 at 7:00 p.m. for an Ice Cream Social. Mark your calendar. You sure don't want to miss it.

DIRECTORY: The 2010-2011 Directory is being delivered by block captains with this Newsletter. Many thanks to them for delivering it and the Newsletter each month. Also, thank you to those who sent in corrections for the Directory. We had 16 new residents move into our subdivision of 285 homes during the last year.

LOST DOG: A medium-sized jet black Labrador dog escaped while roofers were working on the home of Jeff Newman, 4429 Quail Creek. The dog's name is Jake, and he is very friendly. He is not wearing a collar. Call Jeff if you see a dog that looks like Jake.

POOL NEWS: All lifeguards have been hired for the 2010 season. They met Saturday, May 8 to start getting the pool area ready for the opening on May 29. A new pool and pavilion rule sign is being printed to display. The Board of Directors has decided to winterize the facilities annually by October 31. If a resident wants to schedule a function after October 31, they should contact Scott Menzel, and he will check with the Board.

FLOWERBED COMMITTEE: The planting season is here and several flowerbeds are already done. It is a joy to see the colors of spring and summer after the gray and brown of winter.
